

The regular FM radio stations spend all there time talking about crap in the morning instead of letting us Washingtonian's know how we can get through the traffic nightmares in DC. XM radio does the best job at this by far.